Austrian Computer Graphics Award The launch of a prestigious award

The Austrian Computer Graphics Award (ACGA) is organized by the IG Computergrafik and targeted towards individual artists as well as team projects. It is a national award for outstanding CG works and gives the Austrian CG community the possibility to show their works to a prestigious international jury, presented mainly by previous PIXEL-speakers. Whether you are a hobbyist, student or a professional, winning this award guarantees you world exposure and publicity!

You can submit all 3D and 2D animations, 3D visualisations, compositings, motion graphics, VFX, 3D assisted game developmensts, web or mobile applications and digital concept arts as well as technical solutions and innovations in context with computer graphics and animation. Your submissions will be sorted and assigned to matched categories and rated by an online jury across the world. This underlines an independent and neutral rating of your work from industry professionals.

The ACGA will be held for the first time in 2012. The ACGA trophies will be awarded during the PIXEL7 conference on October 5th to 7th, 2012.
